

Shaw Dance Studio
“Danceline”
Placement Class

Traditionally, any dancer with at least one year of dance experience has been allowed to enroll in Danceline. Shaw Dance Danceline is a competitive team, and although the dancers compete on the beginning/intermediate level, there is a certain level of maturity expected of each dancer. To help the classes flow smoothly and to ensure that Danceline is a positive experience for everyone, all prospective Danceline dancers must attend a placement classes this year. This is not an actual try-out or audition; it is just a simple class to make sure all dancers are enrolled in the best possible class for their ability and maturity.

“Danceline”

- Will perform traditional jazz, character, novelty, hip-hop and lyrical jazz routines.
- Will learn teamwork, commitment, and build integrity through precision and artistic dance.
- Will perform in local competitions, fairs, schools, and at community events.
- Will polish and refine dance skills in the areas of jazz, ballet and hip-hop while improving the self-esteem and confidence level of each dancer.

Placement Class: Monday, August 1, 2011 at Shaw Dance Studio

(Attendance at the class is required. Dancers will come to the class according to their age. They will be taught various combinations and technical skills and then students will be placed in the appropriate class for their ability, age and height based on their performance at the class. All factors will be measured to place each dancer in the class best suited to push and challenge them while building a cohesive team.)
